On Saturday May 21st, 2005 Turkish American Business Connection Association hosted Turkish American Business Conference (TABCON 2005) in conjunction with Stanford Turkish Student Association, and Stanford Graduate School of Business High-Tech Club.

TABCON 2005 was a great success in terms of achieving its goal, "Bridging Silicon Valley and Turkey". TABCON2005 brought together distinguished 40 speakers and more than 200 attendees, including top executives, entrepreneurs, venture capitalists, press members and government officials from Turkey and the US. It served as an instant catalyst for many successes that will have major impact on Turkey's technology landscape, for instance a multi-million dollar deal supplying economical PC terminals from a Silicon Valley start-up to Turkey's largest ISP.

In addition to hearing from many exceptional business leaders, attendees were inspired by listening how John Morgridge, Chairman of the Board, Cisco, grew the company from 34 to 2260 employees and then took Cisco public during his tenure as CEO. Conference consisted of multiple panels on two parallel tracks: "Turkish Technology Business and Opportunities", and "Entrepreneurship and High-Tech Ventures".

Other influential business leaders of TABCON2005:

Ziya Boyacıgiller, Partner, Formative Ventures

Bülent Çelebi, President, Airties Networks
